Testimonials:

Title: How to expand your Money Mindset

“Thank you again for presenting your Psychology workshop (for our clients). As you would be aware from talking to the participants after the session, the feedback was very positive, and people found the workshop very beneficial, interesting and easy to understand.

The style of presentation and facilitation made it easy to listen to and people enjoyed your ‘energy’.

We certainly would recommend you to others who want to learn more about themselves, their thought processes and what is preventing them from achieving what they want, whether related to investing or not.”

Title: That little bit Extra

“Thank you for speaking with our team at our recent Property Management Conference. Our department and I personally related well to the discussion and the information provided. I feel I gained knowledge that is useful for my position. I would recommend “Time For You” as a guest speaker to any organisation.

Congratulations Marie on your inspiring presentation. It was refreshing to hear your talk, as you were informative and entertaining. Everyone enjoyed it and commented favourably afterwards. We look forward to having you again at one of our meetings in the near future.

Peta King, General Manager – Property Management , Bennison Mackinnon & Associates

Title: Balance your Life, not just your Chequebook!

“The presentation was informative and very relevant to our investors. We found your style of presenting to be warm and genuine and we felt that you really connected with the group, especially when you shared personal stories of your own experiences.

The simple NLP techniques taught to us will hopefully be used over and over to help us to take better care of ourselves and achieve greater life balance. As it was an interactive presentation, it gave the audience an opportunity to experience NLP techniques that they can utilise in their lives – both as investors and every other aspect.

It was a joy to have you talk to us.

Linda Hunt , President, Investornet Inc.

Title: Your Money or your Life

“On behalf of the staff and management, I would like to express our sincere thanks to your for presenting to our 62 employees at our 2003 Staff Conference.

The information you presented was interesting , understandable and enjoyable. The team found you to be personable and enjoyable, with one staff member quoted as saying “Very good choice of speaker, with a successful background and able to relate to personal experiences”.

The topics you presented were easy to understand and the message was given in an interesting and entertaining manner.

I found you great to deal with during the planning process coming up to the event and also appreciated your arriving early to have a drink and mingle with the staff.”
